

Update to Your 2023 Medicare Part B Prescription Drug Costs

February, 2023

This is important information about what you will pay for your Medicare Part B prescription drugs. These are separate from the medications covered under your VillageHealth Part D prescription drug benefit. These changes were released by Medicare after your 2023 plan materials were produced and could result in lower costs to you.

Please see the chart below for the information that applies to your VillageHealth (HMO-POS SNP) plan.

Changes	What does this mean for you?
In-Network and Out-of-Network Effective April 1, 2023, you may pay a coinsurance lower than 20% of the Medicare-approved amount for select Part B Drugs provided in a setting other than a pharmacy. You will continue paying $0 copayment for Part B drugs provided through a pharmacy. Effective July 1, 2023, you won't pay more than $35 for a one-month supply of a Part B insulin furnished with a durable medical equipment, such as a medically necessary insulin pump (the Part B deductible will not apply to a Part B insulin furnished with a durable medical equipment, such as a medically necessary insulin pump). Prior Authorization rules apply.	Contact our Member Services if you have questions about what you will pay for Medicare Part B Prescription Drugs. We also cover insulins listed in the 2023 VillageHealth Formulary (Drug list) under our Part D prescription drug benefit. These changes do not apply to Part D insulins. For more information on what you pay for covered Part D insulins, please see your 2023 VillageHealth Formulary or visit our website.

If you have any questions about this information, please contact VillageHealth Member Services otherwise there is no need to update us.
